DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figure 3 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant's Admitted Prior Art of Figure 3 in view of Hata et al. (PN 5,332,451).
Applicant's Admitted Prior Art of Figure 3 discloses a compound semiconductor epitaxial substrate comprising a substrate (101), a sub-collector layer (102), a collector layer (103), a base layer (104), an emitter layer (105) and a contact layer (107) formed in this order on the substrate.

Applicant's Admitted Prior Art of Figure 3 does not disclose the compound semiconductor epitaxial having an oxygen-containing layer between the substrate and the sub-collector layer. However, Hata et al. discloses a compound semiconductor epitaxial having an oxygen-containing layer (19) between a substrate (21) and an active layer (18,17). Note Figure 4 and Col. 5, lines 32-61 of Hata et al.. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the compound semiconductor epitaxial of Applicant's Admitted Prior Art of Figure 3 having an oxygen- containing layer between the substrate and the sub-collector layer, such as taught by Hata et al. in order to provide an epitaxial crystal with high buffer layer resistivity.

Regarding claim 2, Applicant's Admitted Prior Art of Figure 3 and Hata et al. disclose the oxygen-containing layer is an $\text{Al}_x\text{Ga}_{1-x}\text{As}$ ($0 < x < 1$) layer [Col. 5, lines 32-61].

Regarding claim 3, Applicant's Admitted Prior Art of Figure 3 and Hata et al. disclose the oxygen-containing layer has an oxygen concentration of $1 \times 10^{16} \text{ cm}^{-3}$ or more [Col. 5, line 62 – Col. 6, line 5].

Regarding claim 4, Applicant's Admitted Prior Art of Figure 3 and Hata et al. disclose the oxygen-containing layer has an oxygen concentration of $1 \times 10^{16} \text{ cm}^{-3}$ or more and $1 \times 10^{21} \text{ cm}^{-3}$ or less [Col. 5, line 62 – Col. 6, line 5].
